

Stand by the People of Nepal

Unmask the Nature- and Climate-Destroying Capitalist-Imperialist World System

On August 26th, hundreds of people were killed and injured in a flash flood in Nepal. Additionally, more than a thousand people are missing. The relationship between the people of Nepal and the people of our country spans many years—ranging from ordinary trade to the exchange of struggle experiences.

On behalf of the International Department of our party, we express our grief and condolences to the families of those killed and affected by the flash flood in Nepal. At the same time, we express solidarity with the revolutionary communists of Nepal.

Following this terrible flash flood, various research organizations are mainly blaming long-term climate change for the situation. In reality, the ice of the Himalayas has begun to melt, creating a adverse impact on nature. Many are saying this, but why is this happening? The imperialist-capitalist profit-centric world system is destroying nature in the name of so-called development and progress. And for that reason, the ordinary people of the world are suffering the consequences through floods, droughts, excessive rains, landslides, etc.

This flood in Nepal is not just a warning message for the people of Nepal; it is for all South Asia and the world. Already, the impact of the flood has reached Bihar. Bihar's Chief Minister Samrat Choudhary has asked to open the Farakka Barrage gates. And everyone knows that if this is done, its impact will fall on our country as well. Therefore, this crisis doesn't belong to Nepal only, but also to us.

Today, the program of saving the earth, life, nature, and climate has emerged as a fundamental program before the communists of all countries. Therefore, saving climate, life, nature, and the earth is part of the class struggle. That is why this struggle must be advanced further under the leadership of a united organization of communists worldwide.

We call upon all the people and revolutionaries of Nepal:

1. Stand by the affected people.
2. Unmask the nature- and climate-destroying activities of the rulers.

Finally, our call to the people of Bangladesh: Oppose this nature-destroying imperialist system. Build a struggle to achieve the fair share of all common rivers with India.
